Arthur Halleran, CEO of Trillion Energy

"The error in the cement job caused a loss of about 4 to 5 days, but that can be caught up if all goes correct after this. It is important to have a good cement bond between the casing and formation. We have established this bond and there is no risk for the future of the well. Now, with a good cement bond the rest of the borehole which is the gas pay zone can be drilled safely. I have seen this happen before and it is not an issue at all, just takes time to fix and we have done that."
